Social Credit government's triumph in Alberta's provincial election Tuesday was so smashing that today only two opposition candidates had definitely won seats.

They were party leaders Elmer Roper of the CCF and Harper Prowse of the Liberals, both assured of election in Edmonton.

For the fourth time in 14 years, the province returned the spoils of the late William Abernethy to the legislature in almost full force.

Assured of 47 of the 57 seats in this, the 11th legislature, the Premier Manning government is also heading the poll in two other ridings and all nine members of the last Social Credit cabinet have been returned to power.

Three Provincial party leaders, Social Credit's Premier Ernest Manning, Liberal leader Harper Prowse and CCF's Elmer Roper will represent Edmonton in the new legislature.

Meanwhile a hot fight is being waged at vote counting headquarters for the two remaining seats in Edmonton's multiple constituency.

Manning Set To Carry Out 10 Point Plan

Premier Manning said today his government will implement the 10 plans in the Social Credit Party's election platform.

The 39-year-old premier, who scored a smashing personal triumph at the polls, declared in a brief post-election statement:

"The government will implement the 10 plans in the Social Credit Party platform stated in the election program with a greatly expanded program of service to the farmers."

He added that "the good administration of the government in the past will be continued in this province."

Main planks in the Social Credit Party platform are based on the Judge report on municipal financing.

THE 10 PLANS

1. Further expansion program for development of natural resources, with Crown reorganization ownership of natural resources, except for land and further development of a leasehold basis.

2. Constant attention to the needs of agriculture with a greatly expanded program of service to the farmers.

3. Development of power resources and encouragement of electrification in accordance with the needs of the people.

FURTHER EXPANSION

4. Further expansion of the government's program of public health and welfare, which already includes such features as free maternal hospitalization.

5. Implementation of the Judge Report.

6. Further improvement in educational system of the province with costs reduced to landowners by implementation of the Judge Report.

7. More and better roads promised. Already the province has a total of more than 80,000 miles of roads about one cent of public debt.

ENCOURAGE INDUSTRY

8. A vigorous program, already commenced, to encourage industry and immigrants to settle in the province.

9. Full government co-operation with both industry and labor to make secure the just rights of both parties and uninterrupted production.

10. A continuation of the government's fight for social justice, economic security and freedom of legislation to the principles of Social Credit is now stressed.

CABINET INTACT

Premier Manning will start his new term as head of the province with a cabinet of last term still intact. He expressed strong satisfaction over reelection of all his ministers.

Liberals Gain Seat

The election of Prowse on the Liberal ticket represented a gain for the Griggs here.

In the recently-dissolved legislature the Liberals failed to hold a single seat. Prowse, sitting as an independent, was elected as an independent.

There were two CCFers sitting in the last provincial house. Mr. Roper being one of them.

Estimates early today showed that the best three parties can do in the election is to garner three of the seats now in doubt.

Approximately half the losing candidates are expected to forfeit their deposits.

Falling in Tuesday's election was considered fairly heavy, better than the 1944 election which returned 51 Social Crediters, but not as heavy as the record polling in the 1940 election.

Premier Manning, youngest premier in the British Commonwealth of Nations, one of the four party leaders running in Edmonton riding, polled the largest vote of any candidate in Alberta election history since 1902.

Manning Vote 22,014

The premier, at the end of the first count, had polled 22,014 votes, giving him a majority of more than 14,000 ballots to distribute to his other party candidates.

The fourth leader running in Edmonton—J. Percy Page of the Independent movement—trailed all other leaders. Re-elected the silver-haired school principal, and former opposition leader, seemed doubtful today.

Just who will form the official opposition in the 11th legislature is still a matter of conjecture.

With CCF and Liberals the only other parties to elect candidates

(each have one) obscurity still shrouds this phase of the election. Counting, which is continuing hourly in Calgary, Edmonton and the seven single seat constituencies, will not decide the opposition force much before Thursday.

Re-counts have been indicated in Banff-Corral, Beaver River, Edmonton, Pincher Creek-Crowfoot, Redwater, St. Paul and Vermilion where Social Credit candidates are leading by fairly small majorities.

Stranded Party Gets Food Dropped by Plane

A surface rescue squad is leaving Norman Wells, in North-West Territories, today in an attempt to rescue four members of an expedition who have been stranded for 17 days on Canol Road between Whitehorse and Norman Wells.

The party, without food since they lost all supplies when their raft sank in Twelve River (13 miles from Norman Wells) today, are being rescued by a plane.

An RCMP rescue plane dropped food and medical supplies to the stranded party.

The party, according to word received in Edmonton today by the RCMP, is also in the party, left Whitehorse August 1.

Included in the party are four men, identified by an Imperial Chase and Wilson of Seattle, and Tom Conley, a northern trapper.

Mr. Conley is also in the party. They travelled without difficulty to the 131st Canol Road and while attempting to cross the river lost their jeep and all supplies.

Manning is supposed to have walked to within nine miles of Norman Wells where he collapsed and was picked up by an Imperial Oil exploration party and taken to Whitehorse.

Two of the other members of the party are believed to be ill.

election but was personally carried to triumph in the Edmonton multiple constituency on a popular vote wave. His election was conceded by opponents as early as 7:40 p.m.

Polio Brings Ban Here On Youth Gatherings

Beginning today, no persons under 16 years of age may enter any public place in Edmonton.

This was the order issued by the city board of health Tuesday after noon in a precautionary measure against possible serious polio epidemic during the next two weeks.

Edmonton became the fourth Alberta centre to issue a polio ban on young people. Mayorville also preceded Edmonton's move.

Under the restriction order, no one under 16 years of age may be in theatres, swimming pools, schools, carnivals, picnics, or play grounds.

Fine of $50 is the penalty which may be imposed on anyone who allows such youngsters into public establishments, under the provincial public health act.

Edmonton's polio toll rose to 24 cases today with the reporting of two new cases. A boy of 11 years and a boy of 15 months are the latest city victims of the disease.

No cases at all were reported during the last week.

Provincial polio toll rose to 113 cases. From heart Valley to the west, the toll is 12 over the

BLAND'S CAMERA COVERS ELECTION

Today's photographic coverage of the Alberta provincial election once again shows the mastery of staff photographer Eric Bland.

The 12 photos presented to Bland's readers today were snapped by Mr. Bland during the night of last night's activity, bringing to the readers the most graphic coverage of any Alberta election.

$150,000 Fire

PETERBOROUGH, Ont., Aug. 18.—(CP)—A fire that raged for more than three hours in the N. S. Kreitzberg store was pronounced under control early today after causing damage estimated at more than $150,000.

Dr. G. M. Little, medical health officer, told The Bulletin that the current polio epidemic is "not dangerous."

Restriction move has been taken because of the disease may be reached in the next two weeks and enough cases have occurred that without such an order, "the epidemic might become serious."

Dr. Little stressed that the ban does not mean that children should be kept indoors. On the contrary, they should play outside in groups of three or four, as long as they stay out of public places.

Papal Broadcast

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Pope Pius will broadcast to the youth of the world Sept. 12 over the Vatican radio. It was announced today.

Singer Hildegarde's Ill In Rome

ROME, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The American singer Hildegarde was in a clinic yesterday with a bronchial lesion which resulted from an influenza attack. Anna Senko, her manager, said the singer was "out of danger" but will have to lay in bed for some time.

Private Enterprise Wins on Urban Vote

A heavy urban vote today swung Alberta's bitterly fought power plebiscite sharply in favor of control by private enterprise.

Complete returns from all 17 constituencies in Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge showed the vote split yesterday 15-12 in favor of government control.

With 2,356 votes gained yesterday in favor of government control, the CCF won a majority of 15-12 over control by a publicly-owned utility.

Rejection of the present system of power distribution by private companies gained more than 15,000 from supporters of public ownership in the three urban centers.

When counting of ballots started last night, public ownership was leading by 10,600 votes to 10,194 over control by a publicly-owned utility.

The Edmonton vote was 22,351 for private companies and 21,718 for government control.

A vote in favor of public ownership would have given Premier Manning's newly-elected Social Credit government the task of managing a socialized power industry—a move he termed "risky" because of the enormous cost of public ownership.

House Might Have No Official Opposition

There may be no official opposition in the new Alberta legislature.

This became a possibility this afternoon as ballot counting so far revealed only two members of non-government parties definitely elected. These are Lethbridge leader Mr. Page was opposition leader in the last legislature although his solutions during the election campaign were not his own.

J. Percy Page, independent party leader and opposition leader in the last house, met defeat.

Procedure traditionally followed in the Alberta legislature is for the speaker to "recognize" the largest party.

Official leader of the opposition is paid $1,500 per session in addition to his $2,000 annual salary.

Further expansion of the government's program of public health and welfare, which already includes such features as free maternal hospitalization.

5. Implementation of the Judge Report.

6. Further improvement in educational system of the province with costs reduced to landowners by implementation of the Judge Report.

7. More and better roads promised. Already the province has a total of more than 80,000 miles of roads about one cent of public debt.

ASHBY FINDS "ATOM BOMB" IN YARD

Patrick Ashby, MP, thought his farm had been selected for a visit from Marx for a while today.

The breezy East Edmonton MP stumbled over a weed-looking device while walking over his summer fallow this morning.

It could have been a bomb so Pat approached gingerly.

It proved to be a radio sound device, still attached to a U.S. Weather Bureau balloon.

Mr. Ashby took the device home. He has written the United States Weather Bureau at Washington informing them of his find.

Bulletin Reporter, Pilot Escape in Plane Crash

By Bruce Power
Bulletin Staff Reporter

TRUTH, B.C., Aug. 18.—Near tragedy stopped the Canadian Airline's Executive North Two on Tuesday as your Bulletin correspondent and Captain Jack "Suds" Sutherland, narrowly escaped injury when our aircraft plowed into a ditch on the Alaska highway, 125 miles north of Dawson Creek.

It was my first flight in any type of aircraft, and was almost my last. The crash occurred when "Suds" was bringing the single engine Auster aircraft for a landing on the highway, for a rendezvous with the directing officers of the scheme. We left the aircraft at Fort St. John, shortly after 1 p.m. to follow the conveyance as liaison aircraft.

We were to land on the highway and contact advance groups of the Sixty-second Airborne Division. The flight was scheduled to take place at 2 p.m.

At fifteen minutes to two we sighted the leading vehicles rolling along the highway at the head of the column.

Circling down over the trees we picked out a landing spot on a 500-yard straight stretch of highway between two curves.

Captain Sutherland swung the aircraft around and we dove in low for a test run. A black teardrop like staff car pulled off to one side of the road and the occupants were out on the road to halt on coming traffic. We circled around over the trees, and "Suds" prepared the flaps as we dropped down to land on the highway. As we were coming in a tourist car swung onto the straight stretch of highway from the south.

"Suds" swung, yanked back the stick, and we shot up over the road, around the forest edge.

Cruising around for a second run we found the grey ribbon of road clear of vehicles, and "Suds" prepared to set the craft down.

The plane's maintenance crew, in a three-ton lorry, rolled up to the scene of the crash and Lieut. Emil Olsen, RCAF, checked over the damage.

Shakily we piled out of the aircraft, and had a look at the damage. Light undercarriage had buckled when we ploughed into the ditch, and half of the wooden propeller was smashed by the impact.

BALLOT BOX TAKEN HOME BY OFFICIAL

Tom Lees of West Edmonton will likely be "famed" as the man who took the ballot box home with him.

Deputy returning officer at a west end poll, Lees and his box of precious ballots were sought all through the night by election officials.

No one could find where he lived on 127 Street north of the Army Signal Station.

He turned up with his ballot box in the morning.

Election officials had trouble with only eight boxes. All official returns were at headquarters early this morning.

Wheat Yields in Edmonton District Expected to Run about 23 Bushels to the Acre, according to a crop report issued today by the Alberta department of agriculture.

Earlier estimates had placed production in this district at about 15 bushels to the acre, but recent rains have now improved moisture conditions.

Estimated yields of coarse grains have also been raised in the latest report to 20 bushels to the acre for oats, 24 for barley, and 21 for flax.

The report says "fairly light crops are indicated in northeast and east central districts, as a result of the earlier drought."

However, it adds there is considerable variation in crop growth, even in the same district.

Condition of livestock is reported to be "good" with feed prospects "fair to good."

Alberta's dairy production was well maintained during the month of July as a result of the recent rains and favorable pasture growth.

All Eyes On Premier Manning

Premier Ernest Manning's comment on the election results which accorded such a sweeping victory to his government was to the effect that he had made a number of promises and would carry them out.

The premier's reference to his promises had to do, of course, with the ten-point program that constituted the platform of his party in this election. These ten points were based pretty largely on the recommendations of the Judge report.

Now the Judge report, as The Bulletin commented months ago, is one of the most enlightened documents ever issued in any investigation of governmental activities.

And the ten-point platform guaranteeing additional revenue for education, improved social services and the readjustment of relationships between the province and municipalities, is similarly progressive and enlightened.

A Figure of Kindliness

It is not necessarily typical of democracy that the death of a popular baseball player should be the occasion of international mourning because in Roman times the great gladiators were accorded the highest honors at their deaths.

But it is typical of democracy, and a very wholesome democracy at that, that the symbol set up for the hero-worship of children should not be a figure of successful stardom or military strategy or unusual learning but a figure of towering kindness.

And when the end came to Babe Ruth, that was all that was left of him—his kindness and his good-will.

Canada's Shortage of Teachers

The news that Canada needs some 7,200 extra school teachers now and will need at least 15,000 new teachers in the next five years reveals an exceedingly serious situation that requires immediate attention.

It is no platitude to say that the school teacher is the backbone of the democratic system.

Democracy depends utterly upon an enlightened public opinion. And the enlightenment of the public depends primarily on the teacher to whose skillful hands is entrusted the task of first shaping the young mind.

It is the utmost importance to the social and political life of Canada that the primary schools be staffed with men and women of the highest intellectual calibre. No other profession is so vital to every community.

But the teaching profession has been to be a deserted profession. It is deserted for the good and sufficient reason that its financial rewards are piffling.

More High-Minded Nonsense

The United Nations Economic and Social Council has jumped into a mess of high-minded nonsense with its present resolution deploring "all legislation measures to prevent mixed marriages between persons of different race, nationality, race or religion."

If all human prejudice and intolerance could be removed from the world, it would probably be an excellent thing for world unity to promote the mixing of all breeds and colors and opinions.

But prejudice and intolerance do exist. And the United Nations Economic and Social Council, so far as we are aware, has not proposed any effective means of removing them.

This means that the progeny of mixed marriages frequently find themselves ostracized and harassed from the classes of both their parents.

It is generally admitted that divorce is the product of incompatibility between two individuals.

Why, then, permit marriage that is based on the incompatibility of caste running far deeper than the incompatibility of individuals?

It is an obligation that must be faced.

His unique prowess on the baseball diamond was, of course, an enduring memory. But his showmanship and his skill were gone. There was only a great warm heart left on what was to be his deathbed. But the children of America turned to that great heart as another generation had turned to the glamor of the great ball player.

The instinct of children is uncannily sound. And they loved him as he loved them. There is something fine and indestructible in the fabric of a society whose heroes derive their stature from the heroic measures of their hearts.

Column Costs Rise So Do Columnists

Consumers may expect a sharp increase in the cost of columns. It was reliably learned here today.

A spokesman for the Column Writers' Association while declining to be quoted directly, decried the "black market" in columns made every effort to keep the price of their product at pre-war levels, but increased cost of production, coupled with the need for American dollars, will probably force us to raise prices generally.

He pointed out that many of the ingredients used in the manufacture of column-typewriter ribbons, cigarettes, pens and psychiatric treatments, among others, have continued to rise in price while the columnists themselves have been on the market at 1939 prices.

"This can't go on without price hikes," the spokesman declared. "Right now it is costing us 30 percent more to make columns. When our present stocks of materials are exhausted, prices are bound to rise."

Others pointed out that while many products have been able to keep their prices level, the situation of inferior materials columnists have used has been unable to find any satisfactory substitute for words.

The news came without warning and column-readers bones were immediately reported from various parts of the province. Newspaper subscribers indulged in a "cost fling" at luxury readings before the price jumps became effective. It was expected that the increase in price would cause consumers to turn to other newspaper features.

This "push prices up on comic strips and editorials."

The spokesman for the column writers denied a charge by the Labor-Progressive Party that columnists are hoarding tens of thousands of pounds of columns in secret warehouses.

"This is the start of a false shortage," L.P.P. members charged, recalling that a short-fall of candy-bars had grown into an abundant supply on the price increase.

It was reported that a brief has been prepared by the L.P.P. asserting that an immense supply of columns have been put in cold storage warehouses.

"A deliberate lie," countered the spokesman for the column writers. "Some of our younger, stronger members may have a supply as far ahead as two days."

but I can truthfully say that most of our members are right up to their present deliveries. Several of them are even a little behind."

Asked to explain how the price increase would affect the increasing supply of American dollars, the spokesman said that the price increase was to prove economies of the past few years.

"It stands to reason that if our columnists are able to export their products on the export to American markets, permitting the processing at low rates under the reciprocal provisions it will increase the gold quo pro and like that."

This is believed to be a technical reference to the lifting of the ban on the export of Canadian beef cattle to the United States, which has resulted in a spread of flow of American dollars northward and a splendid flow of those dollars southward.

"After all," the columnist spokesman declared, "if people can go without meat and vegetables surely they won't mind going without columns."

Most columnists approached on the subject were sharply opposed to a plan for price control on their products.

"The columnists are the epitome of the people," one well-known columnist declared. "It is true that such controls provide for value during the war, but who wants

"Price controls are undemocratic and a threat to our free enterprise system. The price of columns is a free market. The price of columns is a free market. The price of columns is a free market."

"I don't," said the Sween. "I might go to it Ampested Bath for a blow and a bit of relief of it."

"No more," said the Sween. "Personally, myself I'd sooner see a good dog fight."

Provincial Party Leaders Size Things Up for Supporters in Tuesday's Voting

PARTY LEADERS swept into the lead in balloting to elect five M.L.A.s for Edmonton multiple constituency Tuesday. Premier Ernest Manning emphasised province-wide trend favoring his party by piling up more than 21,000 first choice ballots.

FORTUNES of Provincial Liberal Party were at low ebb as returns from Tuesday's elections poured in. Liberal Leader Harper Prowse made a good showing. Here he admits defeat of his party in a better-luck next-time broadcast from The Edmonton Bulletin.

ACCUSTOMED to nothing but victories when he coached world champion Commercial Grade J. Percy Page, leader of Independent party, can take his political ups and downs like a good sport. Page is never one to reach for the "crying towel" when party fortunes are low.

VETERANS of political wars learn to take it as it comes and smile. Elmer E. Roper, provincial CCF leader, is a two-fisted campaign battler who has always enjoyed popularity with Edmonton voters. His party candidates fared badly in Tuesday's elections.

Liberals Preparing For Future Prowse

"We will build . . ."
"We will begin, as of this moment, to prepare ourselves so that we can do a better job in the contests which lie ahead of us."

2 Youngsters Suffer Injury In Accidents

Two children were injured in traffic accidents Tuesday.

Injured were Gordon Heaps, 7, of 1033 145 street and Jeanette Quesset, 4, of Morinville.

Young Heaps was struck by car driven by Norman N. Miller, 10611 79 avenue, when he dashed between two lines of traffic on Stony Plain Road, near 145 street.

The boy ran from between two westbound cars, and was hit by Miller's car, travelling east. Driver of the car took him to the General Hospital where he was treated for arm bruise and head cut, but was not detained.

A passing motorist, George Hill, 1109 72 street, took the little girl to the Royal Alexandra Hospital where she was treated for a three-inch scalp wound.

Meanwhile, 21-month-old Ronald Bedard, 1104 93 street, victim of a street accident Monday, was taken to the hospital.

The little girl was struck by a car at street corner as she played less than 30 feet from her home. She has a possible skull fracture, laceration and is in "critical" condition, hospital authorities say.

End Aussie-U.S. Liner Service

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18 (AP)—Passenger liner service between Australia and the United States ended Tuesday.

Mason Navigation company said its Mariner Phoenix, which reached San Francisco Tuesday from New Zealand and Australia, was taken from that service at once because operation has been unprofitable.

The only means of direct surface travel between the United States and Australia will be aboard a few combination freight and passenger ships with limited accommodations.

U.S. Urged To Rush Food To Jews, Arabs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte appealed to the United States Tuesday to rush emergency food for an estimated 350,000 Arabs and 1,000 Jews, disaster-stricken and driven from their homes by the fighting in Palestine.

The United Nations mediator said the refugees face a "great" sudden human disaster, comparable to an earthquake or tidal wave.

He said the United States Marshall that hopes of peace in the Holy Land hinge on quick dealing with the problem.

This was stated by Liberal party leader J. Harper Prowse Tuesday night, following first-count election returns.

In a statement, similar to one made over the air from The Bulletin's newsroom during the election count which gave the Liberal party its fourth straight sweep, Mr. Prowse said that the Alberta Liberal party now has "the nucleus of an organization on which we will build."

"Although it is obvious from the returns that the Social Credit government has been re-elected, it is not certain yet who will form the opposition," said the Liberal party leader.

"Early returns from the city indicate that I shall probably be elected. While this gives me some personal satisfaction, I must admit that it is tempered by the results from the province as a whole."

PERSONAL THANKS

"I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who helped us in this election. I particularly want to express my personal appreciation of our candidates for the fight they put up."

"When you consider that we only began to campaign a year ago, that we had to start from scratch and that many of our candidates only had two weeks in which to campaign, I believe we can feel that we have accomplished much."

"However, this is no time for sighs, nor do I propose to offer any. The simple facts are that the Social Crediters got more votes than we did—and that is what counts."

CONGRATULATIONS

"I wish to congratulate Mr. Manning on his ability to keep the confidence of the voters."

"I have always believed that the honest effort is wasted. We have made an honest effort. We have gained experience."

"We believe we are right. Eventually I know the majority will speak with us."

Final Victory Ours, Says CCF

Beginning with announcement of the first returns, the CCF committee rooms were enveloped in a cloud of cloud. Cloud that grew and more murky as the evening progressed.

When radio broadcasts revealed that Social Crediters were once again to govern Alberta, the committee members thrust their chairs back, and with drooping shoulders and dragging feet went home with the remark: "We've heard all that we can."

Happiest moment of evening was when leader Roper appeared. He was greeted by many cries of congratulation from the 300, previously despondent people—the Roper victory will be theirs.

Without exception, the homecoming CCF-ers were unanimous in opinion that "the setback is temporary and although we are momentarily defeated the final victory will be ours."

Aussies Triumph

LONDON, Aug. 18.—(Reuters)—Australia today defeated England by an innings and 149 runs in the fifth and last test match of the season. Australia took the series with four victories and one draw.

The match was a tactical contest, with the Australians' strategy of retaining the mythical "Ashes" of cricket.

England's strategy was to win the match by a narrow margin.

IT WAS A CASE OF BURNING midnight oil and then some for staff of The Edmonton Bulletin on election night. A rapid-fire account of the election was carried to radio listeners, through CFBN facilities installed in the news room. A huge blackboard showed results by constituencies as they came in. Some Bulletin newsroom staffers in foreground are, from left: Bill Lewis, news editor; Charlie MacFarlane, city editor; Reg. Hammond, managing editor and Staff Reporter Jack DeLong.

Flaws in Election Lists Arouse Ire of Hundreds

Regardless of how Edmontonians' opinions varied on the election results, there was one point on which thousands of voters agreed.

And that was that enumeration of voters' lists was "the worst in years."

It appeared that thousands of citizens' names were left off voters' lists, leaving them without the opportunity of exercising their franchise.

"Something is wrong somewhere," was one of the commonest sentiments uttered at city polls.

Although about 1,000 Edmontonians had their names added to the lists, it was estimated that 400 names were still missing.

Many didn't get down to the office of returning officer C. G. Purdy before Friday's deadline, and some were still in a last vain attempt to "get my name on the voter list."

About 15-year-old University of Alberta students claimed they had "never been seen in an enumeration."

These students got enumeration slips, entitling them to vote, but sending one of their group to the returning officer headquarters Friday afternoon to get the necessary data to be entered on the enumeration slip without being sworn in, and walked out of the RO headquarters with the slip.

MUCH MISPELLING

A deputy returning officer whose poll was located on the river flats, estimated that of 400 names on his list, about 90 were misspelled, and in many instances, addresses were incorrect.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Craig, 1037 114 street, had their names on the voter list, but that didn't keep them out of trouble.

They said they went to their poll station, but were refused admission, actually saw their names on the voter list, but were refused admission to vote on the grounds that

CCF's Leader Sees Strange Paradox in Sacred Victory

"Complete amazement" was the reaction of CCF leader Elmer Roper to the results of the election.

"How is it," said Mr. Roper, "that the people can vote for public ownership of the power generation and yet at the same time repudiate the only party that has advocated such a measure?"

Within half an hour of the first returns," he said, "I realized that it was a Social Credit landslide."

"There can be only one conclusion to be drawn from such a result: 'The people of Alberta are still enjoying the flush of the war prosperity, and for this, they credit the Social Credit administration, although this condition is national and has no connection with provincial governments'."

Reactions of other CCF candidates were:

Joseph Dowler: It took the British Labor party 40 years before its people saw the light, and at 30 years of age, I'm willing to wait the same length of time. That is my faith in the eventual victory of the CCF party."

Jack Hampson: "The people of Alberta have endorsed the program of the CCF by endorsing government ownership of electric power."

Arthur Thornton: "Despite the result, I believe more strongly than ever that the CCF program is the future hope of the people of Alberta."

"We will be ready for the re-orientation when economic circumstances direct attention to the CCF proposals."

John Crawford, fifth CCF candidate for Edmonton, made no comment on the Social Credit victory.

HEART DOESN'T BEAT FOR SEVEN MINUTES, LIVES

YONKERS, N.Y., Aug. 18.—(AP)—A 15-pound boy born Monday at hospital here apparently was surviving, today, although hospital authorities said his heart did not beat until seven minutes after birth.

The boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Keith, of the Bronx, after Frank H. Fabian, said he worked over the baby seven minutes, finally giving it an inter-cardiac injection of adrenalin. Immediately after the injection, said the boys' heart began functioning.

Hospital authorities said that in such cases heart action usually is restored within one to two minutes.

Escaped Prisoner Unable To Eat After Recapture

WOODSTOCK, N.B., Aug. 18.—(CP)—Mike Stefanyk, alias Michael Stevens, 34, of Toronto, who escaped from county jail here last Thursday, was back in his cell today in a liquid diet after New Brunswick's sheriff captured him.

Stefanyk lived on wild berries during his five days of freedom and was unable to assimilate solid food when captured yesterday by a detachment of the New Brunswick police. They surprised him as he was about to shave at a brook, and he gave up without a struggle.

Grievances Galore For Sad Budgeters

By Bea Thrift

There's a whole barrel of nasty things to talk about today.

There's the predicted butter shortage in February.

Then the announcement that prices will level somewhere between the present rate and the higher listing in United States.

Of course we shouldn't ignore the soap and shortening sobs... or high rents... or lack of housing accommodation.

Permit me to have a whole lot of time... and optimism are having a rough go with their "everybody happy" song and dance.

But in spite of this sad, depressing list... must have a word or two about this butter business.

Severe shortage of butter is evident in the price problem for February.

Producers - that is, are playing every penny-minor move with suggested means of contending with the shortage.

There is the possibility of importing quantities from New Zealand... of course the introduction of margarine.

Which will it be?

And in the meat department we see shenanigans in a small way.

Prices are not supposed to rise for another week... but an odd number of men is taking advantage of the scare and is boosting his prices.

Butter of fact, Thore steak climbed from 65c to 71c in one shop.

But enough of this sobbing, moaning, grinning on a wee spot of cheer.

If you happen to be the type who is cheered by the news that vegetable marrow is in the stores... ready and waiting for that marrow marmalade recipe, then I can be the one to bring tidings of joy.

Those same marrows are on sale at 6c per pound.

Peas that aren't creating much impression and are still selling at 25c per pound.

But at the least, the peas are fresh and the improved quality obviously the more.

Something I can sincerely be enthusiastic about is a beautiful jewel green chiffon velvet.

It's a shade that makes you feel mysterious, glamorous and graceful... all at once.

But that's not all. I'd like to ask of a piece of material... even if it costs $3.50.

Spouse you've noticed all the new silver round and about.

It has appeared during the last few years in an amazing variety.

Right now there are beautiful sterling and plate silver dishes, cutlery, and a host of other things.

I saw a lovely set of an old-fashioned silver loving dish for $25.00.

Little lower scale but very nice in its own right was a little butter or cheese dish with a silver base and a dainty china top.

The dish was sprigged with delicate floral flowers.

All this just for $1.95 (plus tax of course).

WHY GROW OLD

Being a Housewife Can Be Interesting

By Josephine Lowman

I receive so many letters which say, "I am JUST a housewife." This is one of those apologetic phrases such as "at my age." It seems to indicate a feeling that being a housewife is a dull job calling for little intellect and providing little excitement in adventurous living.

Usually these letters are from women who do their own housework and many have young children.

I can readily understand how the constantly demanding job of housework and small children, day after day, week after week, sometimes seems like a drag.

However, the average woman who knows how much real drudgery is connected with success which she considers glamorous. Whether it is success in the writing world or the world of art, the business world or the world of sports, and women in the home, who may feel envious of other careers, would not pay one price to be successful in them.

After all, if you are not under pressure like your career sisters, you can lie down if you feel tired through or go to your office, why not? I am not underestimating the thrill and satisfaction of an individual and exciting career but being a housewife is one of the most satisfying of all careers.

If it is dull it is because you make it so, because you do not use all of the talents and enthusiasms in doing a bang-up job. It is because you are lacking essential information in your career as a housewife and do not continually learn more about nutrition, the child psychology, marital bliss, and home decoration.

Actually, being a housewife combines several careers and there is an endless amount of information available to you at the library and in courses. It is study.

If you have a career and a backache, you go on the lecture trip, write the book, see the show through or go to your office, why not? I am not underestimating the thrill and satisfaction of an individual and exciting career but being a housewife is one of the most satisfying of all careers.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Baby Feeding Care Questions Answered

By Myrtle Myer Eldred

There are still letters drifting in on the subject of the joys, convenience and blessings of breast-feeding. Two mothers agree against it, one chiding me for making such an issue of it, "when bottle babies get along so well." If they ALL did, no one would suggest nature's way.

But, in the main, they are children until they are old enough to be nursed by a mother. I answered all her questions.

The leaflet No. 47 "Sex Education," suggests how this information may be given to children by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Myer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Right now there are beautiful sterling and plate silver dishes, cutlery, and a host of other things.

I saw a lovely set of an old-fashioned silver loving dish for $25.00.

Little lower scale but very nice in its own right was a little butter or cheese dish with a silver base and a dainty china top.

The dish was sprigged with delicate floral flowers.

All this just for $1.95 (plus tax of course).

Teen Fall Fashions Favor 'Grown-Ups'

PARIS, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Jacques Heim's fall fashions for teenagers accentuate casual, easy-to-wear clothes for the junior miss.

With a keen eye on what the "grown-ups" are favoring this season, Jacques Heim has designed clothes without exaggerating hip or bust contours.

His show was a complete education in French couture, taking the audience through the pre-adolescence of a teenager to the dress she is wearing when she meets her beau at a cocktail party, subsequently getting engaged, and finally married.

Day dresses have fullness swept to the back with youthful, girlish collars and ruffled sleeves. Waistlines travel high up and down. An Alice blue suit would first had three-inch-wide horizontal hands encircling the upper hips and running into full vertical panels at the back. He uses the same motif for an evening gown of rose satin, which has an off-the-shoulder, caterpillar collar.

Suits button high in front, with waists slightly flared. The new head is used for day wear, maroon, blue, lavender and black velvet for more formal affairs.

A pretty ankle-length gray flannel dress came with three deep, horizontal, fringed-hemmed, cuffs, nestled in the softly draped, draped material.

The firm wedding gown was of ivory satin and had a high dragging sloop from the front waist round below the knee at the back.

Tools Shortage Retarding Work

By Cecil Jackson

Independent exploration and development work in the Alberta oilfields is being retarded by the shortage of drilling tools and the high price of casing and other steel products. Oil men say that the shallow fields whose smaller costs are involved by the independent operator who still has to open up and develop new areas.

The difficulty in obtaining casing and storage tanks is holding up production at a large number of wells in both the Leduc and Lloydminster fields. Difficulty arises from the fact that the steel is being used for other purposes. The order across the line and getting delivery. All too frequently when the casing does not arrive it is not of good enough quality to warrant running it in a hole in the ground.

Some of the first wells have had casing excavations and pits prepared for the start for some time. The steel is being held up because no rig is available to do the work.

Tests of the oil from the Cretaceous discovery well 15 miles south of the town of Leduc, which is running one per cent sand, are being held up because no rig is available to do the work.

Imperial Oil, Husky Refining, and Anglo-Canadian are reported to be the partners of Peter Petroleum in this test of the area immediately south of the town of Leduc.

Stocks Strengthen In Light Trading

Industrials Climb Slowly; Western Oils Move Ahead

TORONTO, Aug. 18.—(CP)—All groups firmed in light trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Industrials climbed slowly upwards on gains ranging up to 1/2 point, and base metals strengthened after a weak opening. Golds steadied towards the close and vented its edge ahead quietly. Volume was about 400,000 shares.

Groups and utilities led the stronger trend in the industrial groupings, advancing steadily. The liquor group was also strong and new manufacturing issues were better. Steels and foods were a little weaker. Royal Bank, C.P.R., Massey, Harris, Seagraves, Williams Imperial, and Canadian Lumber and Day.

Street B were among the stronger issues. The base metals list firmed in mid-afternoon as base metals, Canadian Film and Consolidated.

More than a point, Gold Leaf, Noranda, New Caledonia, Steep Rock and Eureka were ahead from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 points. Falconbridge, Gold Mining, Quebec, Manitow, and W.A. Meek were weak.

Dome and Tech Hughes were ahead in senior gold before getting outcountered losses in the junior. Campbell, Central Pacific, Elder, and Maclean were among the losers.

Railways Haul Less In April

RAILWAYS hauled less freight in April than in the same month last year, the Bureau of Statistics reported Tuesday.

The tonnage dropped by 230,748 tons to 12,180,000, but it was double the average pre-war movement for the month.

Also, the Bureau said, the 1948 tonnage of 483,110 tons to the end of April was 1,833,000 tons above the same period for 1947 and was a post-war record for that time of year.

Travel Accident Policy

FOR ONLY

FOR SUBSCRIBERS BETWEEN THE AGES OF 16 AND 60.

The Edmonton Bulletin is now enabled to offer its readers the opportunity of securing through Whalen Insurance Brokers (Alta.) Ltd. a TRAVEL AND PEDESTRIAN POLICY unexcelled in the scope of its coverage and liberality of terms. In this policy are scores of different provisions covering many unforeseeable hazards of public and private transportation and pedestrian travel. The financial protection under its provisions is perhaps the most complete and valuable ever offered... all the more unusual in that it is available to ALL Bulletin subscribers except any person who is blind, deaf or who has lost an eye, hand or foot or limb. WITHOUT examination and without red tape.

AGES 6 TO 75; PEDESTRIANS INCLUDED

For any person from 6 to 75 years the only cost of this sensationally liberal policy is a Registration Fee varying slightly according to the ages of those placed under its protection... $1 per year between the ages of 16 and 60; $1.25 per year for ages 6 to 16 and 60 to 75. That is all. There are many benefits for travellers and pedestrians included in the provisions of the Policy, and when the protection is considered in relation to the dangers of daily life in this age of increasing mechanization and speed, it is quickly seen that NO Bulletin reader can afford to delay making application for a policy at once.

BULLETIN READERS and THEIR FAMILIES MEN, WOMEN and CHILDREN

With ONE subscription the policy can be extended to ALL members of a Bulletin reader-family living at one address, except any person who is blind, deaf or who has lost an eye, hand or foot or limb. Thus can be lessened the financial terrors of the accident that can come to ANY family without a second's warning. The costs for medical attention, for hospitalization and for loss of earning power... these in many cases wreck the economic foundations of whole families—an insupportable burden piled upon the original tragedy. This financial collapse can be avoided; the worry, tension and despair can be, to a great extent, done away with. You owe it to yourself and your family to secure this protection NOW.
